Refusal Stalls Talks With Prisoners

22 GI POWs Refuse To Be Interviewed

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya said today he believes the 22 American prisoners of the Korean War who refuse to quit the Communists are attempting to permanently stall off Allied attempts to coax them home.

Thimayya said he Indian command would make every effort to get the explanations started, but there was little possibility they would get under way in less than four or five days.

Time is fast running out: the explanation period ends Dec. 23.

Only hours before they were scheduled to appear, the 22 balking Americans refused to meet with interviewers. They said they won't leave their barbed wire compounds unless fellow pro-Communist South Korean prisoners also agree to attend the sessions. This the South Koreans have refused to do for three days.

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, headed by Thimayya, met for an hour studying protests filed by both the South Korean and American prisoners.

Thimayya labeled absurd some of the South Korean complaints and said they only could have been long statements to explainers.

The Korean POWs, Thimayya said, were insisting on the right to make counter-explanations and long statements to explainers.

He said 21 of the 22 balking Americans signed a petition asking that "several points be clarified" in the South Korean POWs stand.

Thimayya did not amplify, except to add that the Americans maintained they were not attempting to impede the work of the commission.

The general said he Americans asked that their one fellow POW who didn't sign the petition go before the explainers, but that he refused. Thimayya did not identify him.

Thimayya said he couldn't understand why the Americans suddenly changed their position and refused to go to the explainers.

"They promised me, honestly, they would come out," he said.

With the prisoner explanation program at a standstill and the attempts to set up a Korean peace conference broken off, Panmunjom remained quiet today—in contrast to the bustle of days past.

Yank POW Jeers At U.S., Says He'll Stay Red

Letter To Mother Is Released; Says He Fights For Peace

TOKYO (AP)—This is the text of the letter received today by Mrs. Portia Howe from her son Pfc. Richard R. Tenneson, one of the American POWs who has refused repatriation:

"Dear mother: 'Received your wire today and was very glad to get it. You say you would like to talk with me—well that would not be too hard to do. I know you believe me when I say that I would like to talk to you, however, there really isn't too much you could accomplish by it.

"I know that you want to take me home with you but I have made up my mind and I am not going.

"During my life I have witnessed both peace and war in the United States. I love peace, I love mankind, I love them enough to fight for them—that is what I am doing right now—that is why I am not going home. Don't misunderstand me. I still love my family, my people and my country, and whether you are able to understand it now or not, believe me when I say that it is for them that I am fighting and it is impossible for me to live in the United States because I want to live as I wish.

"Actually though I don't believe the United States authorities will allow you to speak to me, they are afraid. They have probably told you that I was forced, drugged, brain washed or some other horse manure that they use to slander and defile people like myself who will stand up for his own rights and the rights of man.

"What would they have to say if they did allow you to talk to me and you were to see me that I was still your son if ever I left you with the exception perhaps that now I have a goal and a reason in life.

"Also as soon as you read this you had better go over to GHQ and take a loyalty oath or you are liable to be arraigned before the House of Un-American Activities (sic). It would be very nice for Eb (Mrs. Howe's husband, E. K. Howe) if he was talked by Gestapo FBI every time he went out to deliver chickens.

"Perhaps you would like to know what we do here in the camp in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea. Well, we have a lot of fun—we have outdoor sports, indoor sports, folk dancing, cultural concerts and now we have rice fields within the camp flooded over and as soon as they freeze up we will be having skating parties and tournaments.

"We have two strands of barbed wire around the place, the first barbed wire I have seen since I left camp drake in Japan. On a clear day we can look over the valley and see the camp on the other side—large guard towers, search light and so forth—looks more like a state penitentiary than a place for men to live while they decide what they are going to do with their life.

"Oh, by the way, one of my friends who is also staying back, Claude Bachelor, asked me to ask you if you would go and see his wife—her name is Kiyoko Araki and she lives at 412 Kitasenozoku-cho, Tokyo, you can get there by taxi. He also asked that you ask her to come over here to see him or write him a letter.

"Say hello to the family if you are not allowed to come and see me.

Mother Tearful As POW Son Refuses U.S. Home

TOKYO (AP)—"Where did I fail him. Oh, where did I fail?" an American mother sobbed today after learning from her son that he will not leave the Communists and return home.

Tears welling in her eyes, Mrs. Portia Howe of Alden, Minn., held in her lap a two-page letter from her soldier son, one of the 22 Americans in the barbed wire pro-Communist camp at Panmunjom.

"I know that you want to take me home with you, but I have made up my mind and I am not going," Pfc. Richard R. Tenneson wrote his mother, who flew 7,000 miles in the hope of persuading him to come back.

His letter renounced life in the United States and heaped scorn on his country.

A New Testament in her hand, the 43-year-old mother spoke bitterly of communism.

"I want his whole letter released to the public. I think people should know how vicious a thing communism is. If it can destroy a home, it can disintegrate a nation.

"I have not given up hope that someday my son will come back to me. I have not given up my faith in God nor Richard. Sooner or later he will see the light."

And, turning to her Bible, she read from Proverbs 22:6: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

In his letter, the 20-year-old Tenneson, only 17 when he left the United States, jeered at his country and said United States authorities are afraid to let her visit him at Panmunjom.

The Defense Department has banned visits by relatives to the 22 Americans lest it create complications in the already tangled prisoner explanations.

"They are afraid," Tenneson said.

Union Accepts Firm's Original 4% Boost

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Settlement of the strike at North American Aviation, Inc., which began more than seven weeks ago, was announced today by a company spokesman.

The spokesman said E. D. Starkweather, company director of industrial relations, came out of a marathon negotiation conference about 3:30 a.m. to announce the settlement.

Starkweather said the economic terms were the same as the company offered before the walkout of 33,000 began Oct. 23 at plants in Los Angeles, Fresno, Calif., and Columbus, Ohio.

SYMBOLIC WALKOUT—United Nations Envoy Arthur H. Dean, who has broken off negotiations with the Communists for holding a Korean peace conference, is shown leaving an earlier meeting of the ill-fated sessions. Dean charged that the Communists deliberately insulted the United States to force he walkout. Dean is leaving for Washington tomorrow for consultations with U.S. officials. To Dean's rear is Kenneth Young, his chief assistant.

Brownell Says All Reds Out Of Government; McCarthy Says No

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell says he thinks all suspected Reds have been cleaned out of the government. But Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) disagrees.

Brownell said in a transcribed Texas radio speech last night he believes all federal employees suspected of Communist tendencies have been dismissed.

"We think that they are all out of government now," he said on the state Republican committee's weekly program, "Report to Texas."

But the President has promised that within the coming year we will have completed the employee security program so that the people can be sure that none of them are left in government.

"And those that are outside, we are going to go after them separately," the attorney general declared.

McCarthy, Communist-hunting chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, said on the "Meet the Press" television program NBC last night more employees are being fired on loyalty grounds every day.

The administration "is heading in the right direction" in eliminating subversives from government, but "I don't think the job is ended," McCarthy said.

Brownell said "one of the first things that President Eisenhower did when he came into office was to set up an employee security program."

"And I am glad to say when the first report came out about a month

The price you pay for the car itself—the local delivered price—is the first thing to look for when you're bargain-hunting.

It's this figure less what you get on your trade-in that determines your real cost—the dollar difference you pay.

That means—keep your eye on the dollar difference. The more car it buys, the better deal you make.

So with our low delivered price and the high trade-in allowances we're giving right now—we think we have a whale of a buy for you.

And when you check into things, we believe you'll discover this:

You get more room and power for your money in this Buick than in any other car on the market.

You get hundreds of pounds more automobile here—more strength in the brawnier frame, more durability in the heavier chassis, more safety in the thicker structural members—than in a long list of cars at this Buick's price or higher.

You also get a lot more in a Buick that the specifications don't show—more fun, more thrill, more comfort, more pride and pleasure.

But why waste another day—with time growing shorter, winter coming closer, and your present car getting older? If you're looking for a real automobile at a real buy in a real deal—come look at Buick right now.

Rally Cites HCL, Fear Of Depression

Democrats Claim Nation Better Off When They Were In Power

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Democrats under the lead of Adlai E. Stevenson are dusting off for use in 1954 a 1952 campaign theme that the country "never had it so good" as when they were in power.

Climbing living costs, economic issues and fear of depression got a heavy accenting over the weekend at a rally of Democrats from 11 Atlantic Coast states and the District of Columbia.

So did the question of subversion and Soviet espionage in government, with Stevenson putting in an appeal to the country to quit raking over ashes of the past and get on with combating the "international Communist conspiracy and the problems of today and tomorrow."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) replied to Stevenson's appeal last night by asserting Stevenson had long shown "an especial fondness toward the Communist philosophy."

McCarthy said Stevenson has been repeating "like a broken record" the idea Americans should fight Communists without getting rough with them.

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee laid heavy emphasis on fear of depression while voicing confidence that "we Americans have a reasonable chance of mastering our economic destiny." He credited his own party with having erected sound defenses against economic disaster and said the Republicans can use them now even though they once called them "socialistic."

The former Illinois governor was the big oratorical gun at the Democratic rally and a fund-raising dinner Saturday night aimed at sweetening the financial kitty and building up spirit for the 1954 campaign.

Democrats from Maine to Maryland were saying here that party prospects definitely are on the upgrade. Stevenson himself said that, measured by recent election results, "our party's fortunes have suddenly improved."

To upwards of 1,300 Democratic partisans assembled at the $100

a-plate dinner, Stevenson said that the Four Freedoms laid down in 1941 as guiding principles for America and the world have been supplanted by the "Four Fears."

Freedom of speech and of worship, freedom from want and fear, he said, have been replaced by "fear of depression, fear of communism, fear of ourselves, fear of freedom itself."

"Those gallant hopes of yesterday," he said, "have given way to the sorry confusion of today."

He questioned whether President Eisenhower can speak as the voice of authority for his own administration.

While Eisenhower speaks of unity, he said, presidential colleagues sow disunity.

"While he calls for calm," he said, "his friends light the fires of hysteria. While he invokes the American tradition that the accused has the right to be confronted by his accuser, members of his administration and his party, try, condemn and convict in a single action of the hand."

"I only wish President Eisenhower could speak for the Eisenhower administration."

Jumping on Atty. Gen. Brownell, Stevenson said he has "even imputed disloyalty or Communist sympathy" to former President Truman.

Truman's vice president, Alben W. Barkley, raw-hided Brownell too.

"We have an attorney general," he said, "whose chief qualifications seem to lie not in his skill as a lawyer but in his ambidextrous, nocturnal invasions of the sepulchers of the dead."

Mention of Brownell brought hisses from the crowd.

Barkley drew a bead on the attorney general for his Nov. 8 charge that Truman in 1946 promoted Harry Dexter White, now dead, from a high Treasury department office to the International Monetary Fund in disregard of FBI reports Brownell said identified White as a Soviet espionage agent.

Peron Offers Amnesty To Political Prisoners

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Juan D. Peron's government offered for congressional debate today a bill to grant amnesty to scores of imprisoned opponents and to thousands in exile. As a prelude, Peron over the weekend freed 75 political prisoners.

Guiana Police Arrest U. S. Wife Of Official

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—British authorities have arrested Mrs. Janet Rosenberg Jagan, young American-born wife of this South American colony's ousted Prime Minister, and will give her a hearing tomorrow on charges of holding an illegal meeting.

The former Chicago nursing student and nine other leaders of the leftist People's Progressive party (PPP) were taken into police custody yesterday at a town 15 miles from Georgetown. They were later released after posting bonds of $75 ($44.50 U. S.) each.

The police said they were using a loudspeaker to address a gathering of 300 people in defiance of a ban against public meetings without police permission.

Mrs. Jagan claimed the meeting was a religious gathering not requiring a police permit.

The British imposed the ban last Oct. 8 when they kicked out Jagan's PPP government and suspended British Guiana's constitution. They charged at the time that he and his 32-year-old wife were leading a plot to turn the colony into a Communist state but took no other action against them.

BLAZE SWEEPS BARGE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Firemen today estimated a blaze which swept through the barge "Manila" caused $25,000 damage, destroying a stainless steel galley and ruining oak paneling in the 54-year-old vessel's cabins. The fire yesterday did not reach a cargo of flaxseed.

1,922 Dogs Impounded In '53 By Warden Stark, Who Retires

LISBON — Take 15,000 dogs, line them up, head to tail — from purebreds to mongrels, from Chihuahuas to St. Bernard's — and you would see the results of a decade of dogcatching.

County Dog Warden L. J. "Dusty" Stark, who is leaving his post Tuesday, said that this year alone 1,922 dogs have been impounded by himself and his assistant, Russell Reichenbach.

Of these dogs, 675 have been sold for experimental purposes, 1,350 destroyed and only 20 retrieved by their masters.

"People have not come after their dogs this year as they have in past years," Stark declared. "I can't quite understand it."

Sheep and chickens are high on the list of farm animals killed by stray dogs. Three stray roaming Center Township this summer, were particularly vicious in their attacks upon sheep. Each night during August and September, one or two sheep were killed, Stark said. Thirty-seven ewes and lambs have been slaughtered by dogs this year.

Other stock killed by dogs, according to farmers' reports, includes 385 chickens and 22 turkeys. A cow, a calf and two steers were also slain.

Dogs which are sold are used at the Pittman - Moore Laboratory ies at Indianapolis, manufacturers of serums and vaccines for fighting canine distemper, the number one killer of dogs, and other diseases. The older dogs act as blood donors only.

A Wayne Township fox was the only rabid animal killed this year, Stark said. This disease runs in cycles, the former Butler Township farmer claims. "One year we had 125 dogs and livestock suspected of having rabies and 76 were found to be positive after tests by the state Health Department."

Stray dogs, impounded in a barn at the county infirmary, are held 10 days to two weeks after a person is bit to see if the dog shows signs of rabies.

Canine inmates at the pound at present include mongrel outwards ly trustworthy, which attacked an East Liverpool school girl several days ago; a shaggy, burr-covered and dazed Collie, and a fiery Cock-er Spaniel which bit the dog warden on the hand when he attempted to cage him.

Stark remembers vividly the time he was attacked by a 125-pound German police dog in 1946. The dog had bitten three children that day and he and Lisbon Police Chief Dalton Pike went to capture the dog at Pine Tree Inn on Route 45. When Stark attempted to tie the dog up, the animal lunged at his face. The dog warden ducked in time, avoiding injury. The big dog then skulked into a corner where Stark put a choker on him. This device is a rope and pole contraption used to capture biting dogs.

Now, after ten years' experience with "man's best friend," Dusty Stark plans to move to Florida to relax in the St. Petersburg sun.

The average American housewife, without leaving home, annually walks a distance equal to that from New York to San Francisco.

Presidential Leadership

The American presidency is in continuous evolution and its duties cannot be defined, according to those who have tried to do so. Each president makes his own determination of his duties. The job is never the same for two men.

It may be assumed that Dwight Eisenhower is still making his personal adjustment to the White House. The process takes time.

It took many months for his predecessor, Harry Truman, to overcome his personal sense of inadequacy and acquire the confidence his critics called "cockiness."

Certainly the Franklin D. Roosevelt elected to a third term was not the same kind of man who had been elected to a first term eight years before.

It is not alone the presidency which is in continuous evolution but the men who become presidents. They must learn as they live.

President Eisenhower, who sometimes has seemed to be at a loss for the leadership touch in his dealings with politicians since last Jan. 20, emerged once more as an inspirational leader in his speech before the United Nations Assembly last Tuesday.

This is his best role. The Eisenhower who has made the hearts of men beat more resolutely was the one who dispelled the atmosphere of futility in the United Nations with a half-hour speech last week.

He again was the speaker whose remarks to a massed army of men awaiting the signal to invade Europe made his listeners feel it was a privilege to endanger their lives — the one whose palpable sincerity won and held friends for American principles throughout World War II.

Leadership is surely the heaviest responsibility of an American president — the kind of leadership which can make men look ahead to the horizon, instead of becoming preoccupied with critical examinations of the back of the neck of the man plodding ahead of them.

At a time when politicians are finding fault with the President, who fails in many ways to satisfy their political requirements for presidential conduct, it is reassuring to remember that Dwight Eisenhower was not chosen to occupy the White House by politicians but by the votes of nearly 33,000,000 Americans who liked him because he was not a politician.

He was a leader who had made the hearts of his countrymen beat more resolutely in times of trial.

But No Elephants

An arrangement as logical as a circus train is now the biggest new item in the transportation industry. It is the "piggy-back" loading of highway trailers on flat cars for long-distance hauls.

The Wall Street Journal reports lively interest in both railroad and truck circles, besides the interest of equipment manufacturers. Railroads could use the freight business. Truckers would be glad to use the railroads at the right price. The public could use fewer out-sized vehicles on public roads.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad has been demonstrating the possibilities of piggy-backing for a decade, with profit to itself and some four dozen trucking companies which find it easier to let one engine crew worry about long-haul trailers than to man each trailer with its own crew.

The idea is new. It's exciting. It's dramatic — as dramatic as it used to be when we were kids and got up early to watch the circus train come in with its piggy-back cargo of lumbering equipment wagons, gilded cages, bandwagons and the inevitable steam piano with the "professor" standing by to test his arpeggios before the beginning of the colossal parade.

Making Safety Pay

The revision of automobile insurance liability rate classes to reward safe drivers and penalize reckless ones is only the beginning.

Insurance thinking, having gone this far, will continue in the same direction as experience provides more evidence that automobile hazards are relative to human behavior.

In some future time, not too far distant, chronically reckless drivers will be barred from the highways. They will be unable to purchase insurance at any price because of their bad records.

Drivers with a growing number of accidents charged against them will still be able to purchase insurance but at such a high premium they will have a powerful financial incentive to improve their driving habits.

There will be a bonus for drivers who have proved themselves to be completely trustworthy. The risk in automobile liability insurance will be viewed like the risk in fire insurance, where safety is rewarded with low premiums and hazard is penalized with high premiums.

The automobile insurance companies have made a good start toward rationalizing what has grown from nothing into a vast business since the dawn of the automobile age. Risk is being determined by the habits of drivers.

Russia's Tactics

By JAY G. HAYDEN

Hides Weaknesses To Make U.S. Look Like Villain

The biggest task ahead for President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill, and whoever may be the top French spokesman a month from now, is to escape an ultimate conclusion by world public opinion that they tumbled into a Russian bear trap at Bermuda.

Assuming that, as now projected, the conference of foreign ministers of the Big Three powers with Russia's Molotov assembles in Berlin next January 4, it almost certainly will cause delay on two vital fronts.

FRENCH POLITICIANS already stalling ratification of the European Defense Treaty, designed mainly to add German rearmament to that pact, have been handed and excuse for prolonging their obstruction for as long as the Berlin conference lasts.

Chinese and North Korean negotiators at Panmunjom, unless they radically change their ways, will continue their sit-down strike against Korean peace until they have thoroughly felt out the possibility of using that issue as a club with which to force their way into both the Berlin circle and the United Nations.

Arthur H. Dean, chief American envoy at Panmunjom, predicted last week that there would be no advance toward Korean peace until the United Nations Assembly adjourned.

Charles E. Bohlen, U. S. ambassador to Russia, clearly had in mind the Communist penchant for delay when he suggested that more important than fixing a date for opening the Berlin conference with Russia was settlement on a day certain for its adjournment.

RUSSIA'S FIRST line for procrastination is easy to see. From his rejection of a proposal by the Allies of a Big Four meeting at Lugano, Switzerland, in October, Molotov has focused on two points: First, "reducing international tension everywhere," and second, insistence that Communist China is essential to discussion of that broad purpose.

The Western Powers, in contrast, have held to the position that European peace was a big enough first aim, and that even within that limitation the most to be hoped for is a fresh start on the specific problems of Germany and Austria.

In its latest note Russia edged over to the extent of consenting to an initial Big Four meeting, with Germany and Austria subjects for discussion, but with continued insistence that there could be no effective removal of world tensions without inclusion of Soviet China.

SEPARATE REPLIES by the U.

S., Britain and France now express satisfaction that Russia finally has agreed to a Big Four meeting looking to "reunification of Germany in freedom and to the conclusion of an Austria state treaty," but adds, as an apparent sop to Kremlin viewpoint:

"The Soviet government has staled its desire to discuss the possibility of a five-power conference. The forthcoming meeting of the four foreign ministers will enable any participating government to state its views on this question."

If Russia accepts this Allied tender, the conference will open on a four-power basis. But there is nothing to prevent Molotov from immediately moving to invite Communist China and collateral events are made to order as a basis for arguments in support of that resolution.

MOLOTOV CAN point to the deadlock at Panmunjom as constituting a far greater threat to world peace, at the moment, than anything going on in Europe. With the mid-January deadline for release of Korean war prisoners disinclined to go home close at hand, it will be surprising if Syngman Rhee of South Korea and Premier Nehru of India, already embattled over prisoner release, do not inject some new fuel to keep that cauldron hot.

Equally available to Molotov's hand is the Indochina situation, in which a peace feeler has been put forward by Ho Chi Minh, the Communist rebel leader with the apparent effect of dividing the French from the anti-Communist Vietnamese.

There can be no denial of the intimate relationship between French and American maintenance of the anti-Communist war in Indochina and resistance by members of the French Chamber of Deputies to ratification of the European Defense Pact.

NOT ONE of many experts on the European situation with whom this writer has talked believes there is the slightest possibility that Russia now will consent to get out of either East Germany or Austria. The reason they give for this opinion is that the Kremlin, for the first time since World War II, is dealing for weakness, rather than strength. For the time being at least it dare not back up anywhere.

The Russian aim therefore must continue to be to hold its line desperately, while maneuvering as best it can to conceal its own essential weakness and to make it appear that the West, and especially Uncle Sam, is the deep-dyed villain.

The Doctor Answers

Any disturbance of one of the five senses is annoying, although possibly the loss of sight and hearing are the worst.

Q — Can a sinus infection cause the loss of smell and taste and clogging of the ears? If so, what can be done about it?

A — It is perfectly possible for a severe sinus infection to interfere with the sense of smell. Smelling has perhaps more to do with taste sensation than the taste buds on the tongue, as anyone knows who has had a bad cold.

As for clogging of the ears, this is probably extension of the infection up the passageway known as the eustachian tube, from the nose to the middle portion of the ear. The treatment should, of course, be aimed at the infection in the sinuses and if this is acute the use of one of the antibiotics or sulfa drugs may be particularly helpful.

Q — I have had a tumor called a lipoma for five years, located above the waist. Is this kind of tumor cancerous?

A — This is a tumor made up of fatty tissue which is not cancerous. People often have more than one.

Q — Please comment on the statement made recently to me that smoking could cause more abundant growth of hair on the arms, legs and face.

A — Smoking cannot do that. Q — Would you please comment on the new treatment of stomach ulcers by way of pills described at the American Medical Association's meetings?

A — I saw the exhibit and it was very interesting. It was described as an experiment, and whether it will replace other forms of treatment to any great degree remains to be seen.

Q — Is there any tangible evidence that a person with high blood pressure is made worse by drinking milk?

A — Nothing very definite that I know of. A person with high blood pressure who is on special dietary treatment with low salt content would not be permitted to drink much milk.

Q — My heart beats about 120 times a minute, even when I am resting. Is this likely to cause me any trouble when I have a baby?

A — Certainly, you should have your heart examined before you become pregnant since this rapid rate is not normal. It could, of course, come from an overactive thyroid gland (toxic goiter) or something else, but in any event, the precaution of having an examination is certainly indicated.

Q — I have started to lose my hair for the past two months, and have gone to a skin doctor who told me it is from childbirth and ether. Do you think I will develop permanent baldness?

A — Every once in a while a person will lose hair following an operation, childbirth, a severe illness or the administering of an anesthetic. Why this should occur is somewhat puzzling. It is possible that all the hair will fall out, but in all probability, it will grow in again, perhaps with a different texture and even slightly different color.

Why Not Act on This Question Before It Happens?

What Did Big Three Meeting Produce?

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

There is really nothing to report about the Big Three Conference. A press release was issued but it tells little that helps to understand what agreements have been reached.

Sokolsky Bermuda.

It might be said that this is a cynical attitude; it might also be said that Eisenhower, Churchill and Laniel could not give their hands away, that they must be secretive lest Malenkov know all their plans.

THAT WAS, in effect, the answer to all inquiries concerning the Malta Conference, but Alger Hiss was present at that one, just as Harry Dexter White was present at Bretton Woods.

Open diplomacy has really never been practiced in human history, but Woodrow Wilson spoke of it as an end to be attained. Wilson himself engaged in secret diplomacy at the Paris Conference, making a deal regarding Sharung which had the effect of starting China on the pro-Russian path from which all the world is still suffering.

Wilson could not produce an open covenant openly arrived at because the shop-trained diplomats were horrified at the idea of the peoples of the world knowing about their own business.

Harry Hopkins was not the first to believe that the people are too dumb: he may have been the first to say it out loud.

IF WE BELIEVE what we are told, the Big Three accomplished in four days of talk nothing more concrete than that a Big Four Conference on the foreign ministers level be called for January 4 in Berlin, if Adenauer of Germany agrees.

The assumption from that must be that an agenda or a formulation has also been worked out which requires Adenauer's approval.

This leads to the further conclusion that the unification of Germany is to be the main subject for discussion.

It is unbelievable that Winston Churchill did not propose a conference with Malenkov. That has been his pet for too long a period for anyone to accept the notion that Churchill was silent about it.

ON THE OTHER HAND, as no invitation has been publicly addressed to Malenkov, all we can do is wait and see. Unless we are told about what Eisenhower said to Churchill, we must assume that the subject came up and was not carried further.

Malenkov does not want a Big Four Conference on the highest level. He wants a Big Five Conference, including not only himself but Mao Tse-tung.

Even Winston Churchill must recognize, as a practical politician, that no president of the United States can sit down with Mao Tse-tung while the blood of Americans, shed not in war but in prison camps, is still on his hands.

True, at this moment most Americans are so anxious about reduced taxes that they are somewhat apathetic toward many questions of honor and dignity, but they are beginning to realize what a brutal trimming we got at the hands of the Chinese Communists.

THE INVESTIGATIONS of Senator Charles E. Potter of Michigan of atrocities, too long suppressed, are just beginning to add humiliation to insult.

Furthermore, the question of seating Red China in the United Nations is always on tap and it is impossible that Sir Winston Churchill did not grunt something on this subject.

Again, it must have been clear, even to Sir Winston, who could rationalize giving Poland to Russia after his country had gone to war to save Poland from partition by both Russia and Germany — even he must realize that any agreement to seat Red China would today produce a major political crisis in the United States.

CONGRESS HAS already passed a resolution on the subject and it is altogether probable that were such an agreement made, Congress would withdraw our country from the United Nations by voting no appropriations. Even President Eisenhower could not stem the tide.

The Three Wise Men must have complained to each other about the terrible people each has in his own country — Laniel's Communists, Churchill's Socialists, and Eisenhower's Republicans, miserable people who believe what they think is true and refuse to compromise for expediency.

It is tough to try to run a country in which the opposition is free to oppose. It is so much easier for Malenkov. Look how easily he managed about Beria!

Public Domain Controversy

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Last week, at what was called the Mid-Century Conference on Resources for the Future, Judge Robert W. Sawyer and Congressman Wesley A. D'Ewart of Montana staged a most enlightening discussion on the highly controversial question of the control of the public lands.

Judge Sawyer, of Bend, Ore., is a former president of the National Reclamation Association, and although he is a strong conservationist, he is nevertheless a potent opponent of the extension through the federal government of public electric power ownership and control.

IN THIS discussion of the control of the public domain, he just as forcefully opposes the current claims of the states and private interests to a part or all of the lands in the public domain.

In his address last week Judge Sawyer defined the public domain lands as the 180 million acres owned by the federal government which are not included in the national forests or other federal holdings.

These are, he says, "the plains across that the traveler sees below or around him as he crosses the West by plane, or train or motor. . . They are the skimmed remainder of Uncle Sam's real estate. . . the acres left over, to which no one wanted title in the years when homesteading was in its heyday."

THOSE LANDS are under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Land Management of the Department of the Interior. One hundred forty million of the acres are managed under the Taylor Grazing Act of 1934.

These lands are used in several ways. Grazing is a major use, but some timber is available. There is also a value for recreation and for the fostering of wild life. The major value of this vast area, however, according to Sawyer, is the conservation of the scanty water supply of the great West.

Finally, in 1934 the Taylor Grazing Act was passed. But the pressure of private greed combined with bureaucratic incompetence and neglect has been so great that the Taylor Act has never been adequately implemented.

Appropriations for control have been held down, and the result, according to Sawyer, is that the private users have the upper hand. "Private profit rather than public service use predominates."

Judge Sawyer believes that the control of the federal government over these lands is indispensable, that it should be reasserted, and that more should be done for its conservation.

Congressman D'Ewart just as vigorously believes that control should gradually be returned to the states and to private users. He cites the extent to which his own state, Montana, has built up agencies of government to control and regulate public lands.

THE CONGRESSMAN also cites the message sent to Congress in July by President Eisenhower as authority for his position.

My own examination of that message leaves me in some doubt as to where the President does stand on the question, beyond his assertion that conservation is good, and that there should be cooperative planning action by state and local interests, presumably with the federal government as a partner.

These are the major points behind a controversy that is bound to develop some heat in the next session of Congress.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

What'll You Have, Ice Or Ice?

The 20th anniversary of the death of prohibition has just been celebrated. You wouldn't think that in such a short time so many wrongs could develop in the national drinking situation.

Fears that repeal would bring back the old-fashioned saloon have been found farfetched. The saloon used to eject minors, keep its distance from a church or school, maintain a fairly decent atmosphere, provide an element of good cheer and serve a properly prepared cocktail and glass of beer visible to the naked eye. Nothing like that has been seen lately, except on the higher levels of cafe and restaurant operation.

In the place of the saloon we have the kiddy-packed tavern, the package-store-surrounded home, church and school building, the dingy barroom and thousands of bartenders who must have taken an oath never to mix a cocktail the right way.

Never has hard liquor been so available so openly so conspicuously, so carelessly and so expensively in so many places under so little competence. There are, of course, some cafes where standards are maintained, but if you get around the country much you will be flabbergasted to note the sloppy, sleazy, dreary, thoroughly amateur-night conditions engulfing taverns and bars.

The barboy who bothers with an olive in the martini or a cherry in the Manhattan is a rarity. The fellow who used to mix a drink with care, take time for bitters or a slice of lemon peel and show pride in his work is almost obsolete.

There are insecticides that would taste better than the cocktail you get in many places. Not even the ice and water are what they used to be.

The mixologist, who used to maintain a cheerful manner, exude a spirit of welcome, and prepare any drink you wished with the patience of a chemist filling a prescription, is but a memory.

The saloon proprietor who seemed anxious to build up and hold his trade has gone with the wind. He is, if possible, more frozen-faced and indifferent than his bartender. It is easy to give the impression they are both catering to seagulls, not human beings.

The amazing thing is that the decline in hospitality, service, efficiency and mood has come in a period when the cost of drinks has hit the stratosphere.

Before prohibition a man could plunk a nickel on the bar, get a glass of beer visible without eyeglasses and secure an atmosphere of friendship and conviviality. Today he can come across with 75 cents for a cocktail and get nothing but a mood of complete indifference, a deep chill and a feeling that he has fallen into an abandoned well.

There is a mood of sorrow and dejection in most saloons. All hands seem steeped in bitterness. Affability is out the window. The customer seems sore because he has to pay so much for so little. The barboy seems sore because the joint is still doing business despite his efforts to kill trade.

The proprietor seems sore because of a report a customer is loose in the vicinity who may ask for fruit in an old-fashioned cocktail.

Yes, prohibition is dead and nobody wants it back. (Nobody, it seems, except thousands of tavern and saloon operators and employees who act as if intent on its return.)

Representative Edith Nourse Rogers is leading a fight in Congress to have the income tax exemption for dependents raised from $600 to at least $1,000. You can get an idea how far behind the times Congress is when it clings to the idea a child can eat, have clothes and live indoors on $600 a year.

A widow reported worth about 35 million dollars broke off her engagement to marry Jack Dempsey the other day. Well, 35 million would have meant another long count, and Jack has always been opposed to them.

Christmas Program Is Held By Holy Trinity Church Groups

A Christmas carol and Bible meditation program was featured at the annual Christmas meeting of the women of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church Friday night in the church, under the sponsorship of the Lydia Bible Class, Laura Fehr Society, Jessie Thomas Circle and the Alice Dennig Missionary Society.

Mrs. George Keister welcomed the group, and a solo, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," was offered by Miss Doris Tellow, who was accompanied by Miss Hilda Franke. The carolers, Nancy Couchie, Nancy Bailey, Patty Sweeney and Janet Thomas, were accompanied at the piano by their director, Miss Tellow and by Miss Patty Jurczak, who played the violin.

The reading parts were presented by Mrs. Olin Muntz, Mrs. John Kryk, Mrs. Joanna Herron and Mrs. Fred Tellow. The carolers and readers were appropriately costumed for their performance in the candlelight service.

Mrs. J. A. Fehr gave the Christmas prayer, and the films, "The Guiding Star" and Dickens' "Christmas Carol" were shown under the direction of Miss Thelma Thomas.

Presidents of the organizations serving on the reception committee included: Mrs. Walter Smith, Miss Donna Stoffer, Miss Franke and Mrs. Edward Thomas. Ushers were Mrs. Walter Black, Miss June Brunner, Mrs. Dalbert Thomas and Miss Stoffer.

Mrs. Fehr, general chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Ray Stockton, Mrs. Clemmer Greenstein, Mrs. Wade Schaefer, Mrs. John Jurczak, Mrs. Oscar Bittner, Mrs. Tellow and Mrs. Herron.

Candles in the Christmas motif made by Mrs. Schaefer, lighted the lace covered refreshment table which was decorated with greens and other Christmas appointments. Mrs. Thomas and Miss Stoffer presided at the silver tea service.

Separate meetings of the groups will be held in January. The dates are: Laura Fehr, Tuesday, Jan. 12; Jessie Thomas, Tuesday, Jan. 19; Alice Dennig, Friday, Jan. 8; and Lydia Bible Class, Tuesday, Jan. 26.

The Choir Association will hold a meeting Monday, Dec. 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becknell of E. 10th St.

Your Lawn Needs No Special Winter Care

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

Lawns need no winter protection and will very likely be severely injured if covered with a blanket of manure. In fact one should not allow the lawn to go into the winter with more than two inches of top growth.

Tall grass will mat down under the weight of snow and kill the roots. The one exception of winter mulching would be a light covering of straw for young grass that did not get much of a start before cold weather.

The lawn should be cleaned of debris and excess leaves, and mowing should continue as long as the growth of grass continues. In northern Ohio the middle of November is not unusual for the last mowing.

Rolling at this season is not necessary, since rolling is done either to firm the seed in the soil at planting time or in spring to press the grass crowns that have been lifted by frost action back into the soil. And then use as light a roller as possible, a water ballast roller, one with very little if any water is best.

Coasting won't hurt lawns, but walking will do a lot of damage.

No rolling is preferred to heavy rolling, and unless the soil is very sandy, roll but once. If in doubt use no roller at all.

Actually cold weather, even when the mercury is huddled below zero, does not in itself harm good lawn grass. The plants go into cold storage and sometimes lose their color but they continue to live and breathe. A well-fed, sturdy sod can stand all the extremes of temperature the weatherman can dish out.

Some lawns are badly riddled in winter because they were sown in the spring with a seed mixture containing annual types of grass. These succumb to the first real winter weather, the same as all annual plants. Or even worse appearance are those lawns infested with crab grass.

Because of lifting or heaving of turf by alternate freezing and thawing, an open winter may be more damaging to grass than the so-called old-fashioned winters. Good grass is better off if it remains frozen all winter, especially if it lies under a protective blanket of snow.

Harmful effects often result from trampling over unprotected grass in cold water. Coasting and sking leave no scars on lawns well covered with snow, but just walking on frozen, brittle grass, that has no covering will leave footprints for months to come. Grass that goes into winter in a strong vigorous condition will be little affected by adverse weather.

A thick soil is highly resistant to frost action because the fibrous roots bind the surface soil together and reduce heaving.

"Why did my lawn go bad?" a very common question, was well summarized by the old gardener. He said that the principal causes of deterioration of lawns are:

SOIL in poor physical condition due to not being properly prepared.

IMPROPER maintenance, such as infrequent cutting, failure to provide plant food, too close cutting.

POOR drainage or setting, resulting in irregular cutting.

PRESENCE of trees with roots near the surface.

TOO MANY trees branching low, causing heavy shade.

INVASION of weeds and crab grass.

UNDERMINING by insect pests.

TOO CONSTANT hard use, such as play by children and pets.

Fixit Forum

Q — What can be done to get rid of moisture that collects on windows?

A — Open tops of windows on the opposite side of the house slightly—about one inch. This gives water vapor in the air an exit, and should clear the other windows in a few minutes.

FROZEN LACE of the Deep South adds charm to this low cottage-style dwelling with wrought iron columns on front porch. There is a capacity of five bedrooms and three baths when the attic is finished. A center hall gives the house unusually good traffic control. The house covers 2,082 square feet and the two-garage 420 square feet. The finished second floor adds 1,025 square feet of floor space. This is Plan B-2292 by Alvin Cassens, Jr., architect, 145 So. Franklin Ave., Valley Stream, N.Y.

Quizzing The Gardener

Q — The soil of many of our house plants is infested with tiny white worms which seem to be most numerous shortly after watering. What are they and what is to be done?

A — Sounds like spring tails, minute insects who live in decaying organic matter in the soil. They are harmless—but annoying. Black Leaf 40, DDT or chlordane will eliminate them.

Q — Is it necessary to mulch recently planted peonies?

A — Mound over each crown with a shovelful of sand. Leaf or similar mulch material packs and may encourage the development of a damaging fungus rot.

Q — Should lilac and similar flowering shrubs be pruned before winter?

A — Only to remove dead, broken and unwanted wood. Lilac, forsythia, flowering quince, honeysuckle, viburnum and similar spring flowering shrubs should be pruned in June.

Q — Where can the small home gardener send a soil sample for reliable testing?

A — Your local county agricultural agent will have it tested for you. Take several samples from a dozen different parts of the garden. Mix samples thoroughly and submit a cupful.

Thin-Wall Storage Partitions Save Space

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service
Owners of small economy homes are worried about space these days. Not that they're expecting visitors from Mars. They are concerned with "inner," not "outer" space. They complain (1) that they don't have enough storage space, (2) that they don't have enough space in which to build in storage units, and (3) that there is already too much empty space in their pocket books.

There may not be a single fool-proof answer to all these complaints, but the small-home owner has one alternative open to him that is well worth considering—an idea developed by the University of Illinois Small Homes Council. It calls for slimmed down, non-load - bearing partitions erected where practical as back panels for storage - wall units in the home.

The slim panels are a fraction of the thickness of stud walls, thus saving many square feet of floor space, and costing less. They are a breeze even for a not-so-handy man to build.

The partitions are made of standard 4 x 8-foot sheets of 1/2-inch gypsum board bonded with linoleum paste to 1/2-inch hardboard. This half-inch wall, when properly supported, is said to resist impact better than conventional stud and-plaster wall five inches thick.

It is a simple matter to build closets and other types of storage units against these partitions, or, rather, to erect divider or end panels, then back them with the thin-wall panels.

Any required number of divider or end panels are simply fastened to the floor and ceiling with cleats. There are a number of ways to hang shelves between them — using adjusting metal strips or other metal hangers, screws driven through divider panels into shelves, nailed dados, or cleats.

Floor-to-ceiling divider or end panels can be made of 3/4 inch plywood sheets or 3/4 inch boards not over six inches wide, glued and doweled at the edges. Or they can be framed of 3/4 inch or 1 1/2 inch wood and faced with 1/2-inch hardboard.

Mark on the floor where the panels will stand and fasten them in place with cleats. Cleats can be nailed to the floor and secured to plaster or gypsum - board ceilings with expansion - bolt anchors. A 1x2 facing strip will conceal the ceiling cleats.

Now the gypsum-board back panel is raised into position and secured by nailing into divider and end panels from behind. Base and ceiling moldings are final touches on the back panel.

The one thing left to do is select the shelf arrangement best suited to the purpose for which the unit is intended.

Of course this type of storage unit can be just simply built against existing walls.

Litter-Cot Is New Emergency Aid

Just in case, the New York State Civil Defense Commission is stocking up on a unique type of cot. The Commission has ordered 50,000 of the combination cot-stretchers. Called a litter-cot, it is a modern version of the conventional canvas-and-wood litter. Instead of the wooden frame, it is made of aluminum with collapsible aluminum legs. And the legs are built so they'll fit onto the frame of another litter-cot, enabling hospitals and first aid stations to stack disaster patients in a small space. In tests, litter-cots, get many more victims to hospitals than with old-fashioned equipment. The new equipment can also at least double the capacity of an ambulance. Although designed primarily for use in wartime emergencies, the device obviously can be useful in industrial, highway and aircraft accidents, where there are multiple casualties.

More victims can be cared for in less space by double decking the interlocking litter-cots.

The task of carrying an injured patient is lightened with the use of the aluminum stretcher.

with Paula and Bonita Waitman. The last of the extension meetings on laundry methods was held at the home of Mrs. Ronald Hoopes Tuesday.

Salem Quakers Defeated By Youngstown South, 67-63

Lack Of Height Hurts Locals

Poor Foul Shooting Also Blamed For Loss

By SANDY HANSELL

"They're still a year away, maybe..."

That was Salem Quaker coach John Cabas' remark as he walked into the dressing room following Saturday's game with Youngstown South.

He had just seen his team thrill the 734 fans at the game with a rally that fell short of victory in the fading seconds of the tilt. The final score was Salem 63, Youngstown 67.

The game revealed the Quakers' chief trouble is their lack of height.

Contrary to advance reports, South did possess considerable height in two boys, one of whom wasn't even mentioned in the pregame publicity, who towered six feet, three inches.

The Cabasmen were unable to control the boards, and that, coupled with poor foul shooting and a general all-around letdown from the opener, led to the defeat.

Early in the third quarter, with South leading by 13 points, the Quakers charged back to within five points, before the visitors enjoyed a brief hot streak to end the period on top, 54-45.

STARTING THE last quarter at a fast pace, the Red and Black hit for three consecutive baskets in the first 50 seconds as Youngstown called time out with the score 56-51.

The two squads traded baskets about evenly until, at the 3:50 mark, Jack Gottschling fouled out with the score 63-54.

Larry Stoffer then batted in a rebound, Harry Baird converted a pair of fouls, and Jack Alexander notched a free throw. Then Alexander pulled down a length-of-the-court baseball pass to dunk in the shot that pulled Salem up to 63-61 with over a minute and a half remaining.

With the stands in an uproar, Harry Baird stole the ball and passed to Dick Hunter cutting under the basket. But Hunter missed an easy bunny shot which would have tied the score and Salem called time out with 1:20 remaining.

After South netted a pair of fouls and Hunter meshed a two-pointer, Ken Bosu tied up South's Randy McElroy under the Salem basket with 20 seconds left.

On the resulting jump ball, Warrior Bob Schiedemantel shot between two Quakers to steal the ball, and dribbled the length of the floor for the clinching field goal as the buzzer sounded.

It was a game that could have gone either way.

Outside of South's height, Salem's poor foul shooting was much to blame for the loss, as the visitors outscored the locals 23 to 11 in foul free throws. The Quakers missed 17 of 28 chances, while the Warriors blew only 14 of 37 attempts.

Salem eagers displayed a letdown from their torrid pace the night before. They were unable to "perk up" until midway in the third quarter. The clearest indication of that is that the Red and Black shot only 23 per cent from the field in the first half but an even 40 per cent in the second half.

The Quakers, however, outshot the winners 26 field goals to 22. Salem had a 31.7 average while South had a 28.9 mark.

JACK ALEXANDER again paced the scoring with 23 points, 15 of them coming in the last half. Sinking 10 of 21 shots, the lanky sophomore also started to control the boards in the fourth period.

Jack Gottschling, the only senior on the first five, played a fine game.

Enjoying the best of his three seasons on the varsity and leading the team with his floor performance, he accounted for 17 points Saturday. His 11 points in the first half kept the locals in contention up to that point.

Harry Baird, third high scorer with 11 points, was typical of the team last night, not finding his shooting eye until the fourth period.

Randy McElroy (20) paced South's point-making with 17 points, while John Sinclair (22) collected 16.

Cabas' biggest worries now appear to be finding another pivot man who can aid Alexander with the rebounding and another guard who can assume some of the scoring burden.

UCLA Led Nation's Colleges In Punting

NEW YORK (AP)—UCLA's Rose Bowl bound Bruins are masters of the punting game in major college football for 1953.

UCLA, according to NCAA Service Bureau statistics released today, returned punts further than any other team in the country—561 yards. The Bruins blocked seven of their opponents 65 punts while the next best effort in punt blocking was four.

UCLA averaged a net gain of 37.6 yards a kick figured by subtracting the distance kicks were returned from the total length of the punts, while Bruin opponents averaged only 24.3 yards.

All-American Paul Cameron, the Ace Bruin tailback, was a major factor in UCLA's punt returning success, finishing second only to Minnesota's Paul Giel in yardage. Cameron returned 21 punts 284 yards as against Giel's 288 on 17.

In kickoff return yardage Howard Cassidy of Ohio State finished second with an average of 34.3 yards in 15 tries. The national leader was Max McGee of Tulane who returned 371 yards in 17 tries.

Youngstown Reserves Lose To Salem

Forced to freeze the ball for the last five minutes and severely handicapped by poor foul shooting, the Salem Reserves fought off a desperate last quarter rally by the Youngstown South Jayvees to top the Warriors, 73-67, Saturday night in the Salem gym.

Leading at halftime, 34-25, the Quakers continued their attack in the third period, sparked by four consecutive field goals by Ken Bosu midway in the period, to maintain a 56-45 advantage at the end of three quarters.

But in the final stanza, South put on a spurt, pulling up to within four points — 67-63 — with two minutes remaining. However, while the Red and Black were in a freeze, Walt Rutzy cashed in on a tap-in followed by Jim Beard's two pointer to cinch the victory.

The locals might have won more easily but for poor foul shooting. Salem failed to convert 32 of 47 free throws.

Bosu paced the scoring, netting 23 points, while Bob Early accounted for 17. Jerry Myers got 14 and Rutzy, 11. Jack Broth led the losers with 13 markers, while Jack Moore collected 15.

J. D. Roberts Picked To College Lineman

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK (AP)—J. D. Roberts, Oklahoma's All America guard, was college football's No. 1 lineman without any argument in the opinion of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

The writers and broadcasters participating in the Associated Press poll gave the 20-year-old, 202-pound senior from Dallas, Tex., a total of 220 points, 100 more than his nearest rival, Al America Stan Jones, Maryland tackle. The points were figured on the basis of three for a first-place vote, two for second and one for third.

Roberts, a defensive specialist in 1952 who switched to the one-platoon system of play without any trouble, received its first-place votes.

Jones, who'll oppose Roberts in the Orange Bowl at Miami, was rated No. 1 by 24.

Crawford Mims of Mississippi, Roberts' running mate on the All America, edged Michigan State's Don Dohoney, All America end, and Art Hunter, Notre Dame tackle for third place. Mims' total was 85 points to 81 each for Dohoney and Hunter.

Larry Morris, Georgia Tech's All America center, received 59, which tied him for sixth place with Bill Fenton, Iowa end, and Steve Eisenhauer, Navy's 1952 All America guard.

The first 10 was completed by Ray Correll, Kentucky guard, and Jack Shanafelt, Pennsylvania's All America tackle.

Lions Clinch Title, 27-16

49ers Rout Colts, Cards Upset Bears

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Only the defending champion Detroit Lions and the not-so-invincible Cleveland Browns have any say left in the League doings for 1953. For the other 10 clubs it is a case of wait till next year.

The Lions and Browns will meet for the championship Dec. 27 in Detroit. The game will be renewal of last year's title tilt, which Detroit won 17-7.

Detroit clinched the Western Division crown yesterday by whipping the New York Giants 27-16 as Steve Owen bowed out as the New York head coach after 23 years. He resigned last Thursday, but will remain with the team in a scouting capacity.

The Giants went all out to win one for their departing mentor and came within half a yard of tying the score late in the game. But Detroit's Gene Gedman deliberately gave the Giants a safety and then as time ran out, he cracked over from the 5 for the clincher.

Cleveland, after 11 straight without a loss, fell victim to the aerial artistry of Philadelphia's Bobby Thomson. The Eagles triumphed 42-27 as Thomson pitched for three touchdowns and completed 23 of 35 passes for 331 yards.

The San Francisco 49ers, who until yesterday had a chance of deadlocking Detroit for the lead, routed the Baltimore Colts 45-14. Quarterback Y. A. Tittle threw four touchdown passes and fullback Joe Perry scored three times.

The 49ers ended the season with a 9-3 record. Detroit had 10-2.

The Chicago Cardinals outscored the Chicago Bears 24-17 to rack up their first victory of the year and the Pittsburgh Steelers edged the Washington Redskins 14-13.

The Los Angeles Rams ended their season Saturday night by trouncing the Green Bay Packers 33-17.

This Week's Fights

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, boxing's Rookie of the Year for 1953, goes after his ninth straight victory tonight at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway with Dick Wagner of Toppensh, Wash.

Wagner a rough body — thumper, gave the former Olympic 165-pound champion, his toughest fight April 13 at the same arena. Patterson won the decision after a grueling battle. It was one of the two pro fights in which Patterson has failed to knock out his man.

Because Patterson is only 19, the fight is limited to eight rounds. I will be seen on television (Du Mont) in some sections of the country.

Ezzard Charles and Coley Wallace meet in THE bout of the week Wednesday night at San Francisco. Charles is No. 3 challenger to Rocky Marciano and Wallace is No. 6. It will be telecast by CBS.

Still aiming for a title bout with Marciano, ex-champ Charles can't afford another setback after his defeats by Nino Valdes and Harold Johnson.

Wallace, who played the title role in "The Joe Louis Story" for the movies, stopped Billy Gilliam in his last outing, Sept. 28.

For a change there will be an all-Irish main event in Madison Square Garden Friday when Paddy Young and Billy Graham battle in a 10-rounder. Young, hoping to get a return bout with Bobo Olson, who beat him for the American middleweight crown in the summer, stopped Sammy Giuliani on his first comeback bout. Graham, twice loser to kid Gavilan in welter championship fights, hasn't been in action since July.

Bobby Gleason, just back from Europe with his Cuban heavyweight Nino Valdes, who flattened Heinz Neuhaus, has posted a $5,000 check with the New York State Athletic Commission as a challenge to Marciano.

Gleason hopes he can move Valdes into a title shot at Marciano in Miami next February although Marciano's manager, Al Weill, would prefer Danny Nardico.

Hi-Lo Forbes Top Harness Horse Of '53

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hi-Lo's Forbes, a black stallion which brought only $300 in the auction ring as a weanling, today was named Harness Horse of the Year for 1953.

The 5-year-old packer, winner of $32,625 in taking 11 of 17 starts, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wagner of Landover Hills, Md.

Hi-Lo's Forbes turned in a number of superlative performances during the 1953 campaign, but the one which sewed up the honors was a 1:58.6 trip at Roosevelt Raceway in New York the night of June 6.

By a full second it was the fastest mile ever registered by a harness horse over a twice-around oval.

Voting on a 10-7-5-3-1 basis in a poll conducted by the U. S. Trotting Assn., 112 turf writers accorded the son of Frisco Forbes a wide 340-point margin over Pronto Don, winner of the No. 1 rating in 1951.

Hi-Lo Forbes received 753 points to 413 for the trotting gelding from Hayes Far Acres Stable in Du Quoin, Ill.

Rounding out the top five were Adios Boy, 2-year-old pacer owned by J. S. Turner of Nassawadox, Va., 302 points; Newport Dream, 2-year-old trotter owned by Newport Stock Farm, S. Plainfield, N. J., 281; and Kimberly Kid, three-year-old trotter owned by Allwood Stable Far Hills, N. J., 266.

Hi-Lo's Forbes, after his sensational mile at the Roosevelt Raceway, won in 2 minutes at Laurel, Md., and broke the 2-minute mark 3 times over the 3/4 mile track at Verron N. Y. Harry Cluke, Harrington, Del., reinsman, took over Hi-Lo's Forbes this season and guided him to his records.

Previous winners of the Harness Horse of the Year award were Victory Song in 1947, Rodney in 1948, Good Time in 1949 and 1952, Proximity in 1950, and Pronto Dbn in 1951.

'Depression' Priced Tickets Aid Ohio School

BOWLING Green, Ky. (AP)—A leaf borrowed from the lean depression years has put athletics on a boom basis at Bowling Green High School.

Cut-rate football did so well the past season that the school has decided to extend its experiment to basketball.

Receipts dropped a little under the plan of selling season football tickets for depression era prices, but the fans turned out in record droves. And that is where the school counted its profit.

"A large and enthusiastic crowd helps our team immensely," Principal H. B. Gray said today. "We are hopeful that once new fans are exposed to football and basketball they will develop an appetite for them and keep coming back over the years."

"With the prices we have set, we feel that almost anyone not only can see our games, but have enough money left over for popcorn."

Bowling Green High sold its five-game season football tickets for $1 for unreserved seats and $2.50 for reserved seats.

Approximately 2,500 were sold, four times as many as ever before in the school's 30-year football history.

Receipts totaled $4,900 compared with the average $5,500 in recent years, but a factor in the decline, Gray said, was the cancellation of one game with key rival Franklin-Simpson, which had been suspended two weeks.

The attendance of the four home games played averaged 3,000, up about 500.

Prices will remain the same next season although Bowling Green has six home games, meaning season ticket holders will pay 16 cents a game for unreserved seats.

Season tickets for 10 home basketball games have been cut in half for students, selling for $1, and have been reduced from $3.50 to $3 for reserved, theatre-type seats. The gym seats 4,500.

Desperation had nothing to do with the Bowling Green experiment. Athletics are more than self-sustaining, with football and basketball paying for nonspectator spring sports. And the past summer $5,000 was taken from athletic profits to buy new band uniforms.

Philadelphia Smashes Browns' 11 Game Win Streak, 42-27

Thomason Hurls 3TD Passes

Eagle Linemen Hit Hard, Rush Graham

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Browns, beaten for the first time this season and in a big way, start work today for the championship playoff with the Detroit Lions Dec. 27.

The Browns, who have been trying to avoid injuries that would cripple them in the "big one," lost yesterday to the Quaker City's Eagles, 42-27, in the last game.

Coach Paul Brown, who minded the loss a little less because it came after the division title was clinched, said he was glad his Clevelanders "didn't suffer any injuries that would hinder us in the championship game."

"This is a good one to have behind you," continued the coach, who was afraid of the drubbing all the time his club was winning 11 in a row.

Coach Jim Trimble said the Browns were "every bit as good a ball club" as they were when they beat his Philadelphia 37-13 in October. The Eagles, he added, "played better than they knew how" this time.

The 15-point loss was the worst licking for the Browns since they joined the National Football League in 1950—and it came just a week after their biggest victory, that 62-14 wallop they gave New York's Giants.

Only the San Francisco 49ers, while both clubs were still in the old All-America Conference in 1949, have beaten the Browns worse. The Coasters won by 28 points that time, 56-28.

Eagle linemen, both on offense and defense, jarred their Brown opponents, rushing the passing of Cleveland's Otto Graham and giving their own tosser, Bobby Thomason, plenty of time for his flings.

Graham completed only (for him) 15 of 24 passes for 241 yards. That trimmed his record but still left the league's leading passer with the finest marks of his career.

During the season, Graham completed 167 of 447 per cent of his 258 passes for 2,722 yards, an average of 10.5 yards a toss. Before yesterday's game, he had completed 65 per cent of his throws and was averaging 10.6 yards a try.

Thomason, helped by Philadelphia's outstanding lineplay and the standout receiving of Pete Pihos, completed 23 of 35 against the Browns for 31 yards.

Lou Groza, Cleveland's place kicker, added to his league records with two field goals and three conversions. He ended the season with 23 field goals, compared to the record of 19 he set last year, and he has scored in 45 consecutive games, another record.

Cleveland led twice in the game, once in the first period and again shortly after the second half started.

Ray Renfro ran 11 yards for the first touchdown and then Groza booted a 19-yard field goal. His second three-pointer came after Philadelphia scored two touchdowns in the second period.

After the halftime, Graham hit Ken Carpenter for an eight-yard touchdown pass, but after that it was all Philadelphia. George Ratterman's 13-yard scoring fling to Dante Lavelli was in the fourth period after the game was hopelessly lost.

Thomason passed to Pihos 15 yards for one Eagle touchdown, to Toy Ledbetter for 14 yards and another to Bobby Walston for 17 and a third TD. The Philadelphia's other six-pointers came on 3 plunges—6 inches by Thomason, 2 yards by Don Johnson and 3 yards by Ledbetter.

Two Browns, both in the Army, already have signed contracts for 1954.

The two, tackle John McCormack and halfback Burrell Shields, expect to be back in civilian clothes by the time training starts next summer.

Trabert, Mo Connolly Top U.S. Tennis Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—To the surprise of no one, Tony Trabert and Maureen Connolly, are rated at the top in the annual seedings of the ranking committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

The seedings, announced yesterday, are not official until next month's annual meeting of the USLTA, when they will be acted upon. It is a foregone conclusion, however, that both Miss Connolly, the national champion from San Diego, Calif., and Trabert, the ex-sailor from Cincinnati, will retain the top rankings.

This is the third straight year Miss Connolly has been placed at the top.

Ben Hogan Wins Golf Acclaim At Home, Abroad At Age Of 40

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

NEW YORK — If ever a man reached the pinnacle of success in sports at an age when most athletes are heading downhill, that man was Ben Hogan, the golfing perfectionist from Fort Worth, Tex.

At 40, less than five years after an automobile accident almost took his life, the sometimes silent man of the fairways was acclaimed the greatest golfer in history. He triumphed in the Masters, U. S. Open and British Open at rugged Carnoustie in Scotland.

Hogan's first big victory of the year came in the Masters at Augusta where his 14 under par 274 shattered the 14-year-old tournament record by five strokes. He next won the Pan American Open at Mexico City with 286, two under par.

He won the Colonial Invitation at Fort Worth for the fourth time. He was neither satisfied nor disappointed in his game as he headed for Oakmont, Pa., and the U. S. Open. It was one he wanted to win for in previous Oakmont opens par had mastered all competitors.

At the end of four rounds Hogan's cards were 67-72-73-71 for a 283 total. He had beaten par by five strokes and his nearest rival, Sam Snead, by six. It was Hogan's fourth open and placed him in a position whereby he can become the only golfer to win five U. S. Opens by taking the 1954 test at Baltusrol in Springfield, N.J.

At Carnoustie, his rounds of 73-71-70-68 for 282 gave him a four-stroke margin over three rivals. His 68 was a new competitive record for Carnoustie.

Almost anything else in golf during 1953 might ordinarily be lost in the shuffle because of Hogan's accomplishments. But there was one golf shot made by Lew Worsham, Oakmont's pro, that will go down in golfing history.

It was a wedge shot 120 to 140 yards in length on the 18th hole in the tournament billed as the "world championship" at Chicago's Tam O' Shanter. The ball took several bounces and dropped in the hole for an eagle two.

The shot, which Worsham claimed he "missed," was seen by a national television audience, plus Chandler Harper who a few seconds before thought he had won first prize of $25,000. Instead, he finished with $10,000 for second.

The shot meant $50,000 to former U. S. Open champion Worsham. As a result, Promoter George S. May signed him to a $35,000 exhibition contract. Worsham also led the money winners with $33,807 in tournament earnings. Doug Ford of Harrison, N.Y., was runnerup.

Blood, curly-haired Walter Burkemo, 34, of Detroit, trounced for the PGA final 7 and 6 by Snead in 1951, won the 1953 crown in his own back yard when he beat Felice Torza 2 and 1.

Gene Littler, 23, of La Jolla, Calif., on Navy leave, won the U. S. Amateur at Oklahoma City. He did it by sinking a 20-foot putt on the 36th hole for a birdie 3 to beat Dale Morey of Indianapolis, 1 up.

Harvie Ward of Atlanta reached the final in defense of his British Open crown but bowed to Ireland's Joe Carr, 2 up.

Among the women, Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., won eight of 24 tournaments in which she took part. Her $19,816 in prizes led the feminine swingers. Patty Berg of Minneapolis was runnerup with $18,623.

Beisy Rawls, 25, of Spartansburg, S.C., won the Women's Open at Rochester, beating Mrs. Jacqueline Pung of Honolulu.

Returning Lettermen Portend Strong Lisbon Basketball Team

Seven lettermen, including three regulars from last season, are returning to Lisbon High's cage team this year and are expected to give veteran Coach Jack Mills' squad a good chance at the Tri-County basketball title.

Last year the Lisbon cagers battled their way into the state regional tournament at Youngstown before being nipped by Girard, 45-44.

Lisbon's squad will center around 6-8 center Dean Nicholson and the other two returning regulars, Jerry Rose, a 5-11 junior, and Jim Rutecki, a 6-4 senior.

The fourth starting spot on the Blue Devils' squad will be filled by Dick Andric. Mills has not chosen the man for the fifth position from five leading candidates, Ute Siefke, Jon Reynolds, Sonny Utt, Chick Ashton and Amzi Hough.

Lisbon's chief opposition in the Tri-County race probably will be East Palestine. The Bulldogs have most of last year's squad back. Their biggest man is John Herbert, going at 6-5.

Nicholson, who was selected for the All-Tri-County team last year, holds the loop scoring record with 40 points in one game. The Blue Devils open their season tomorrow night with Struthers on their home floor.

Doug Ford Wins Miami Tourney Beats Snead By Four Strokes For $2,000

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Now they'll quit calling the Miami Open "Sam Snead's golf tournament."

That designation will sound sort of silly after the way youthful Doug Ford gave the veteran Snead a sound beating as they battled for the $2,000 first prize in yesterday's final 18-hole stretch.

Spotting Snead a one-stroke lead as they started the last round, Ford caught him with a birdie on the first hole, worked up a two-stroke margin, then lowered the boom by sinking an 80-yard shot out of the trees for an eagle 3 at the 15th.

The 31-year-old Yonkers, N. Y., pro wound up with a 3-under-par 67 for a 72-hole total of 272 to beat Snead by four strokes and deny the West Virginia slammer's bid for a sixth championship.

It became known as Snead's tournament after Sammy won it for the fourth and fifth times in 1950 and 1951. A movie contract forced him to miss it last year.

Ford's prize increased his bankroll for the year to $26,815. He finished second in the money-winning list to Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa. Worsham's total of $34,000 included the $25,000 he won at the Tam O' Shanter in Chicago.

Worsham won only $195 in the Miami Open as he finished in a 14th place tie at 282.

Snead, fading under the last-round pressure by Ford, took a 72 for 276 and second place. He finished a stroke ahead of Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., and Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Indiana, Kentucky, Duquesne Roll On; Big 10 Looks Strong

NEW YORK (AP)—Although there have been numerous upsets and some disappointments during the young basketball season, Indiana, Kentucky and Duquesne, the three teams rated at the top of the heap before operations began, have shown no cause for concern.

The three have won nine games among them, and all swing back into action tonight.

Indiana, with three straight triumphs, seems to be in the most danger. The Hoosiers, defending NCAA champions, play Notre Dame, which has looked good in three encounters so far. They also play Montana during the week.

Kentucky, back in action after a year's layoff, has won its only two starts, and plays Wake Forest, an outfit that created all sorts of surprises in the Southern Conference last year. But unless there is a major upset in the making, Adolph Rupp's team should win as it pleases.

Duquesne, the pride of the East, shows a record of four victories. Its opponent is Carnegie Tech, a team that even Coach Dudley Moore admits his charges should beat. On Thursday, though, the Iron Dukes play St. Louis, which could cause them more than a workout.

In fact, with the season barely under way, Duquesne already has won a tournament. Moore's outfit captured the Steel Bowl championship by beating Pitt in the final Saturday night 79-43—and holding the Panthers to just three points in the final period.

"I never saw anything like it," Moore said. "I was absolutely entertained."

The teams ranked right below the top three in the Associated Press preseason poll, however, are having their troubles. Oklahoma A&M, No. 4, has won four and lost one, and tonight it must play a return date with Colorado, which it defeated 58-55 Saturday after coming from behind in the final period.

Kansas, No. 5, has lost its first two contests. The Jayhawks return home this week, however, and play Tulsa Wednesday.

Actually, the Big Ten seems to be showing the way this season. Only two of its members—Iowa and Northwestern—have been beaten. Indiana, the favorite to win its second straight title, clubbed Butler 76-57 Saturday.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

We've got the facts of the conspiracy—now let me give you some figures on the scope of Soviet infiltration into our government.

Victor Riesel

There were at least 10,000 federal employees who were bad security risks or disloyal or under the discipline of Moscow's MVD police in this country.

Of these, at least 100 were top agents who were in direct contact with the Russian secret police, the Soviet embassy and consular officials or such couriers as Betty Bentley and Whittaker Chambers.

I'm still counting, but the record of years of testimony reveals that they infiltrated at least 58 important government agencies, in which they made policy, and through which they planted men who even today are in the very gut of our armament industry.

AT THE SAME time, they placed their people, according to testimony before government agencies, in 13 of the topmost sensitive spots in our governing system.

Through these 13 policy making positions, some of which put them at the right hand of our presidents, they were able either to control or direct the work of nine of the highest wartime liaison subcommittee which briefed chief executives and Cabinet members on the most secret data of our struggle for civilization.

Through these nine liaison squads they were able to place themselves on at least 25 government inter-departmental committees which formulated our post-war policies.

It would take a king-sized federal agency to break down into similar figures the Soviet's infiltration into our overseas war machine intelligence services, including the super secret OSS and the Allied Military Government, an apparatus which tried hard, but futilely, to throw Europe's powerful unions and all of Germany into Soviet hands.

ONCE THESE AGENTS, and the men and women who took party discipline, slipped into federal service, who promoted them? That's no longer a mystery. They promoted themselves!

Almost all of those exposed by government and congressional agencies over the past 15 years had some connection with at least one, and sometimes several, other exposed infiltrators.

This, of course, can be documented. They used each other's names for reference on applications for federal employment.

They hired each other as Harry Dexter White did with Gregory Silvermaster, and Major William Ullman and Frank Coe. They promoted each other. They raised each other's salaries.

They transferred each other from bureau to bureau, from department to department, from congressional committee to congressional committee.

They assigned each other to international missions. They vouched for each other's loyalty and protected each other when exposure threatened.

They often had common living quarters—such as Mr. Silvermaster, Mrs. Silvermaster and Major Ullman.

THERE HAVE been investigations since mid-1939. Of those discovered, at least 10,000 were ousted via the loyalty and FBI and Civil Service activities since June 20, 1940.

Of course, not all of these were spies. Hundreds were bad security

"Why shouldn't I talk to myself? I'm the only one who listens to me around here!"

risks. Others were disloyal. Or members of disloyal organizations. So they went.

But not fast enough to keep them from those 13 top spots in our government. Which doesn't give the full picture because one of the 13 was Alger Hiss, the open faced boy from Baltimore who himself wound up on 18 special top secret projects.

Among the 13 were men who picked out bombing targets for the Allied High Command; men who ran much of the Treasury Department or who had such offices as executive assistant to the president of the U. S.; men who shaped the direction of the labor movement so that Soviet agents today can cripple defense production and siphon off secrets by merely processing the legitimate grievances of their honest American working class members.

OF THE THOUSANDS in this infiltration phalanx, two have been punished. The others are living comfortable, high salaried lives. Do these men, many of them brilliant, realize what they've done. Are they contrite?

For the answer, I give you the replies of one ex-government official, Victor Perlo, on being questioned by Senate probes:

"Were you, in fact, the head of an espionage ring during the war?"

Perlo refused to answer on the ground that it might incriminate him.

Later he was asked, "Do you know who invaded South Korea?" He retorted, "Well, I don't know that anybody invaded South Korea. I have seen very powerful evidence indicating the possibility that the shoe was on the other foot."

Which government do you think Perlo worked for while he was in our government service?

Steel Mills Output In '53 Is Record

CLEVELAND — With three weeks to go until the new year, the nation's steel mills already have made 1953 a record production year.

Steel magazine said today the output has reached 107,353,000 net 105,19,848 tons set in 1951. Antons, well above the old record of eight-week steel strike crippled 1952 production.

Due to a fast pace in the early part of the year, the new record was made despite an output decline that started last June. The production rate last week dropped another two points to 85 per cent of theoretical capacity of 1,916,000 tons.

Prices on finished steel went down from $114.95 a ton to $114.64.

1953 Nears The End

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — The seers and sages already are weighing a vanishing year, as 1953 becomes just another cobblestone on the long road of time.

What kind of year has it been? How will it be remembered?

The historians will say it was a year of political upheavals, of dark doubts unresolved, of titanic decisions postponed.

The economists will say the nation's pocketbook stood the strain well, but will warn business could take a turn for the worse or, on the other hand, for the better.

The medical spokesmen will say the health of America was never higher, even though more people complained of a tired, rundown feeling.

Half the politicians (Democrats) will view with alarm what wasn't accomplished in 1953; half the politicians (Republicans) will point pride.

But not even the Communists will claim they have a solution to the greatest problem of the working man under U.S. capitalism, which is, "Where can I find a place to park my car?"

Each pundit will look at the diminishing year from his own viewpoint. And, as did the blind men who felt different parts of the same elephant then described it variously as like unto a wall, a tree, or a snake, each will give his own verdict.

Nore will make much sense to the average man. He will remember 1953, not for its world-shaking events, but for something memorable that happened to him—trivial or important.

We look at a single year only through the perspective of our own lives, the impact it made in some way upon us individually, not the final place it will have in the long story of the human race.

Who will remember, a decade from now, that Premier Mossadegh found a new reason to cry in 1953? Who will remember that it was this year or another year that Russia announced it had a hydrogen bomb, and Josef Stalin passed into a beyond in which he held no belief?

Who even will remember 1953 as a whole year anyway? You can't remember 365 days. You remember fragments of time... one moment of emotion... a day you made a decision that changed your life, such as putting on long pants for the first time... a week in a hospital... a honeymoon month.

To one man 1953 will be the year he finished paying the mortgage on his house, and four hours later the roof fell in. To a small boy it may be the time his dad took him to see a world series baseball game. To a college student 1953 may be nothing all his life but the tear-streaked face of a girl, crying in the moonlight because she wouldn't marry him.

A housewife may recall this year for the last visit her mother paid the family, hiding a mortal illness throughout her stay because she was a mother who wanted a glad goodbye. Or a fellow might remember

Paralyzing Strike Threatens Britain

Railway Union Calls Pre-Holiday Walkout

LONDON (AP)—Santa Claus was a key issue today in Britain's biggest strike threat since the general strike of 1926.

The National Union of Railwaymen (NUR) has called on its 400,000 members to strike next Sunday at midnight.

A strike on the state-owned railways would paralyze a nation looking forward to its gayest Christmas since before the war—with plenty of food and drink and unrationed goods.

The immediate issue is whether the railwaymen are entitled to a pay raise of 56 cents or $3.60 a week.

But Santa Claus was quickly injected into the dispute.

"Railway scrooges," shouted The People, Labor party mouthpiece, in a front-page headline denouncing union leaders for calling the strike on the holiday week.

"You'd almost think the leaders of the NUR had no children of their own and never believed in Santa Claus," said the Sunday newspaper.

"At any rate they are going the right way to stop youngsters from having a happy Christmas by taking a train trip to meet the old man in white whiskers at the big stores... Shame on them."

The Sunday Pictorial, which calls itself a newspaper of the left-wing viewpoint, cried out in big black headlines: "Cabinet Must Stop Christmas Rail Strike."

Calling upon the government to move in immediately to settle the dispute, the pictorial declared:

"Forget for the moment whether the railwaymen's pay claims are justified or not. Forget whether they are right or wrong to threaten strike action at such short notice at this time."

"The first step must be to prevent this calamity happening at all."

Interjection of Santa Claus into the dispute brought this sharp retort from an NUR organizer at a meeting of union members:

"You are not to feel ashamed of yourselves when people say of the strike you are spoiling the kids' Christmas. There will be little or no Christmas festivities in the homes of railwaymen on the wages they are getting."

The last time labor trouble shut down Britain's rail lines was during the great general strike.

The unions are demanding a 15 per cent hike in wages which now average $24.07—8 pounds 11 shillings 11 pence—a week. The Railway Staff National Tribunal, whose rulings always have been accepted in the past, awarded a weekly increase of only 4 shillings, 56 cents.

"Cattle" originally was synonymous with "chattel" and denoted merely a form of property, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

A 24-year-old Signal motorist was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Harry M. Vincent this morning on a reckless operation charge as the result of one of two traffic mishaps in the city over the weekend. Police cited Bruce E. Crawford after he lost control of his auto on S. Lincoln Ave., just north of Perry St., at 12:30 a.m. Sunday, causing it to strike and demolish a city light pole.

stand up for his own rights and rights of man."

Mrs. Howe said she was prepared for the shock after the 22 Americans refused to attend explanations yesterday.

"It was perfectly obvious to me it was going to be a negative reply—if there was to be a reply at all. I was not surprised."

Asked if she thought the letter was a true expression of Richard's feelings, she said:

"I think he thinks it represents his true feelings."

"This terrible thing has happened to him in a prison camp under what conditions I don't know, and under circumstances I do not understand."

"But I think the Communists are capable of doing the same thing under other conditions. If they can destroy the home, they can disintegrate the nation."

Analyzing her son's letter, she read a passage from it—

"During life I have witnessed both peace and war in the United States. I love peace. I love my kind. I love them enough to fight for them. That is what I am doing right now—that is why I am not going home."

She gestured to the letter—

"Why, he was only 17!"

"What does he know of life, and life in the United States?"

"He was in combat seven weeks. What does he know of war?"

"The whole argument falls apart."

In another passage, he wrote: "It is impossible for me to live in the United States because I want to live as I wish."

The mother commented, "I wouldn't have any idea what he meant about 'impossible.'"

"I have failed somewhere and I must find out where, because I have three other children and I must not make the same mistake."

"I believe a mother should start at birth trying to train a child for life. Perhaps I overdid it. Richard resented discipline. Perhaps that is where I made my mistake."

Asked if she still wanted to see her son, she almost broke down.

"Of course I want to see my son—of course I still want to see him!"

She will stay in Tokyo for awhile.

Du Pont Cleared Of Monopoly Charges

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — U. S. District Court Judge Paul Leahy ruled today the cellophane operations of the du Pont Co. was not a monopoly or conspiracy in restraint of trade as charged by the government.

Leahy dismissed the complaint, filed six years ago under the anti-trust laws by the U.S. Justice Department. He said that the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., America's largest chemical-making firm—should not "be punished for its success."

Specifically the government accused du Pont of:

Controlling manufacture and sale of cellophane, limiting production, excluding competition, fixing prices, retaining tight hold on patents.

The government asked that du Pont be required to divest itself of some plants and factories and establish a competitive industry in cellophane and caps and bands.

Du Pont denied the charges. Judge Leahy said "the facts destroy the charges."

GOP National Committeeman H. J. (Jack) Porter of Houston asked whether Brownell's department would "continue to expose other cases."

Brownell replied:

"I think we will have to because how are we ever going to know . . . how to deal in the future with this international conspiracy . . . to overthrow our government by force and violence? How are we ever going to know how to deal with that unless we find out the mistakes that were made in the past so that we can profit by them?"
